GUARANTEE

Although this is a dispersion, the following guarantee will be made: Dandy of Westdrums x is unconditionally guaranteed to be a breeder. Campbell Farms reserves the right to retain enough semen from him to settle any females with short breeding dates. All females that have been in calf a sufficient length of time will be pregnancy checked. If any bred females sold prove not to be in calf, Campbell Farms will provide the new owner with three vials of frozen semen from Dandy of Westdrums x. Such semen may be used only to settle females purchased in the sale. A list of breeding dates will be provided on sale day and will supercede any material in this catalog.

After 32 years as an owner, breeder and importer of Shorthorns it is neither easy nor pleasant to discontinue a lifetime of activity in the Breed. This decision has been reached partly because I have had to be away from the farm more often than is practical, but mainly because of the fact that the cattle are owned by a limited company and this creates the continuing problem of trying to keep my personal affairs divorced from those of the company. This I have not been able to do.

Shorthorns have made it possible for us to meet and know many fine people from all over the world and this wide acquaintance has in turn made it possible for our two older sons to travel to such countries as England and Scotland, Argentina and Australia.

Since 1946 when I made my first trip to Scotland to buy cattle, I have enjoyed the confidence and good will of Mr. Stewart Bennett. He has been a good friend. Then, I cannot forget the support and friendship of the late Colonel Torrance Beardmore, my good friend the late W. Harland Merry, and many other Shorthorn enthusiasts.

I have had personal satisfaction from many sources during my Shorthorn years and one of these times would have to be in 1952 when Louis Cadesky gave me an open order to buy a bull at Perth with no price limit. I bought Calrossie Armada for $25,000 and I like to think that this bull had an important part in the future development of the great Louada Shorthorn operation as we know it today.

I was fortunate to have been able to buy females in Scotland that produced imported-in-dam bulls that proved to be top breeding bulls in Canada and the United States . . . such bulls as Camson Better News, Camson Prince Bob, Kirkton Grand Alliance, Kirkton Golden Star, Crugleton Jefferson, and others.

While it is a long time ago, I should mention that in 1937 I had the Grand Champion bull at the Chicago International with Campbell's Command.

Since we started our Polled Shorthorn breeding program eight years ago we have produced two Polled bulls that have been exported and they are breeding well for their owners in Scotland and New Zealand. Other Polled bulls bred here are heading good herds in the United States and Canada.

I will only add that every great bull deserves good females, and if Dandy of Westdrums is given that privilege, then he has the greatest breeding potential of any Polled Shorthorn bull in the world today.

Grant Campbell

First-prize junior get-of-sire, 1963 International. Three of the first calves by the 1962 International grand champion, Dandy of Westdrums x.

Dandy of Westdrums x is one of the greatest Polled Shorthorn bulls of all time. World attention will be directed to the herd or herds that buy him in this dispersion.

With just five head at the 1963 International . . . the first calves by Dandy of Westdrums x, and the oldest a summer yearling, Campbell Farms won the following:

- Reserve Grand Champion Female
- First Junior Get-of-Sire
- First Junior Bull Calf
- First Summer Yearling Heifer
- Second Summer Yearling Bull
- Second Junior Heifer Calf

It's great to have an International Grand Champion Bull. It's even more important to return to the International a year later with his first calves and compile a record like this.

Group of young bulls by Camson
Nugget 2nd x at Campbell Farms.

The Campbell Farms Polled Shorthorn herd represents one of the breed's most important packages of cattle. Although never a large herd, Polled Shorthorns from this herd have been exported to Scotland, New Zealand, and sold to top herds throughout the United States and Canada.

It is regrettable that time spent on business interests away from home has made it necessary for Grant Campbell to sell this herd. His association with Shorthorns dates way back to his childhood days when his father built one of the great Shorthorn herds. Upon Grant's return after World War II he re-established the Shorthorn herd becoming one of the leading breeders and importers. In 1953, for example, his Shorthorn sale averaged $1,878. Nearly the entire herd was sold in 1955 to R. E. Smith of Texas, with a few key horned imported heifers retained. These were mated to Birmingham Nugget 3rd x (exported to Australia for $5,000) and Birmingham Dauntless 2nd x (exported to New Zealand for $3,000) and their daughters were the base of the Polled Shorthorn herd.

Although it was never Campbell's plan to own a large number of cattle (there are just 34 female lots in this complete dispersion), without a doubt, this sale contains more of the kind of bulls and females desired by Polled Shorthorn breeders whose ambition it is to produce outstanding seed stock than would be expected in an offering four times this large. It is our hope that the large share of these cattle will stay in North America where they can continue their improvement of the breed.

CAMSON NUGGET 2nd x—Was sold for $5,000 when he was five months of age to Bill Rapley, Avenel Farms, Md., and we were to fit the bull and show him at the International, where he was second in class. By mutual agreement with Mr. Rapley, we brought the bull back to Campbell Farms for herd bull duties and this proved to be a very fortunate move in the future development of our polled herd. He was always a tremendous individual and he typed every calf he sired. His dam is in this sale. We are pleased to report that Camson Nugget 2nd is now herd bull in the W. H. Merry herd at Milton, Ont.

The 1962 International Grand Champion Polled Shorthorn bull, Dandy of Westdrums x. Senior stock bull at Campbell Farms, he sells in this dispersion as Lot 1.

There are 200 vials of frozen semen from Dandy of Westdrums x that sell with the bull, with the exception that Campbell Farms reserves the right to retain and use a sufficient amount of this semen to settle any cows sold in the dispersion that may prove not to be in calf.

DANDY OF WESTDRUMS x—Several years ago the Westdrums herd in Scotland selected eight outstanding Polled Shorthorn females in the United States for the foundation of a Polled Shorthorn herd. One of these, Lynnwood Daybreak A 4th x, was the dam of Dandy of Westdrums x. He was imported by Campbell Farms in 1962 and shown that summer and fall in Canada where he was undefeated grand champion. That November at the International he became the first bull imported from Scotland and the first bull shown by a Canadian to win the International grand championship in the Polled Shorthorn show. Anyone who saw him at Chicago or since will agree that he is one of the greatest International champions of all time.

Of greater importance is that in 1963 his first daughter was International reserve grand champion, a son won his class and three of his first calves won the coveted junior get-of-sire award. Here is proof of prepotence.

Dandy of Westdrums x is by Uppermill Leopold that sired the best pair of bulls, best three bulls, best three bulls by one sire and best five bulls by one sire at Perth in 1960. His sons are consistently among the top sellers at Perth and head great herds throughout the world.

Campbell Farms has about 200 vials of frozen semen from Dandy of Westdrums x. They reserve the right to retain enough to settle any cows sold in this dispersion which later prove not to be in calf. The remainder of the semen goes to the new owner of the bull. Although this is a dispersion, Dandy of Westdrums x is guaranteed to be a breeder.

and here is the "old form" pedigree of Dandy of Westdrums x, Lot 1

Dandy of Westdrums x is one of the few Polled Shorthorn bulls bred in Scotland and exported to North America. His sire, left, Uppermill Leopold, sired the best pair of bulls, best three, best three by one sire, best five by one sire, Perth, 1960. At right, Dandy's dam, Lynnwood Daybreak A 4th x, was the top female of the eight purchased by Westdrums for the foundation of their Polled Shorthorn herd. Soon after purchased she dropped the twin calves shown with her.

Lynnwood Daybreak A 4th x is the outstanding individual in the group of 8 polled females that were selected in the United States by the Boots Pure Drug Company to start the polled breeding program at Westdrums.

It is interesting to note that a daughter of Lynnwood Daybreak A 4th x has produced a polled bull by Uppermill Leopold that has been purchased at a high figure by Tulleevin Farms, Franklin, Ohio.

Since 1958, the horned sons of Uppermill Leopold have compiled a consistent record of success in Britain, Argentina, Australia, the United States and Canada.

Sons of Camson Nugget 2d x at Campbell Farms.

CAMSON ADJUSTER x — A maternal brother to Camson Headliner x, a bull that we used in the herd and later sold to Waterloo Cattle Breeders Ass'n for $2,500. Camson Clipper Jean x is a top breeding cow and very prolific. Her 1962 heifer sold for $1,000 in a private sale at one year of age. Birmingham Dauntless 2nd x was exported to New Zealand by Ben Franklin for $5,000. Camson Adjuster x is a growthy, rugged bull that is ready for heavy service.

Camson Nugget 2d x, the great polled sire used so successfully at Campbell Farms. Lot 4 is a grandson.

CAMSON HIGHLIGHT x—In the forty years of Shorthorn breeding here at Campbell Farms there has never been a more promising bull calf than this one, and this comparison includes such great imported-in-dam bulls as Camson Better News and Camson Prince Bob, whose dam is Camson Highlight's great grandmother. If we were continuing in the Shorthorn business, Highlight would have had to be retained as a junior stock bull. He has run on pasture with his mother since birth, and whenever you see him you immediately know that you are looking at a great stock bull in the making, one that may happen only once in a lifetime. With the long breeding history of this Primrose family here at Campbell Farms, we offer Highlight with pride and satisfaction, and we regret that we will not have the privilege of owning, showing and using him in the years to come.

CAMSON DYNAMIC x—Is one of the best herd bull prospects in the dispersion and if we had been continuing our breeding program we would have retained a semen interest for future use. Dynamic x has everything to make him a great Polled breeding bull—color, good legs, natural fleshing, character and most important a great mother. Lornebrae Missie 7th was taken out of pasture to the Western Fair, London, this year and shown with her son. The pair were easy winners of a strong cow-calf class. We purchased Jealous Ada (imp) in the Marshall dispersion in Scotland for 1,000 gns several years ago and later we sold Cruggleton Jefferson (imp) to Jack Goetz for $3,000. Jefferson proved a great breeder in the Goetz herd.

CAMSON GOLDEN GIRL x—The two lines of Goldies which came from the two imported Connachan Goldies always gave us good calves. This cow is dam of Camson Aristocrat x, the first prize junior bull calf and member of the winning junior get-of-sire at Chicago International in 1963. He was also elected All-American for his age group in 1963. His full sister is the good senior calf listed as a separate lot. After her last calf Camson Golden Girl x failed to get in calf, and our veterinarian advised leaving her open until later in the summer. She is now bred to Dandy of Westdrums x.

Connachan Goldie, the imported foundation cow for the Camson Goldie family. Lot 25 is a daughter.

CAMSON GOLDEN GOLDIE x—Of all the imported females we have had at Campbell Farms in past years probably the all-time favorite was Connachan Goldie (imp). On her first mating to a Polled bull she calved Camson Dauntless 5th x, when she was twelve years old, and he was exported to New Zealand. Last year at the Royal Winter Fair, Bob Adam, the well known Scottish Shorthorn breeder, reported to us that Camson Dauntless 5th x was one of the three best Shorthorn sires he had seen in New Zealand in 1963. A Polled yearling heifer out of Camson Golden Goldie x sold early this year for $1,000 in a private sale. Camson Golden Goldie x sells in calf to Dandy of Westdrums x since June 25.

This cow has just about everything that goes to make a great breeding female. In September we took her out of pasture and showed her with her bull calf at the Western Fair, London. They won the pair class in a good showing of ten entries. Her bull calf is listed as a separate lot, and she will calve again in January to the service of Dandy of Westdrums x.

Her first heifer won the junior heifer class at the 1962 Chicago International and was sold for $1,200 to Harry Peters, Windholme Farm, Orange, Va. Mrs. Peters showed the heifer at the International last year and she placed fourth in a strong class of junior yearlings. Lynnwood Premier x the great breeding bull that wrote Polled Shorthorn history in the Birmingham and Joyceton herds in Canada. Lot 43 is a daughter.

BIRMINGHAM FLOSSY ROMA 11th x—The imported Flossy cow in this pedigree was a great cow and we bought her granddaughter from Ben Franklin with the idea that she would nick with Dandy of Westdrums x. Note that she is sired by the $8,000 Lynnwood Premier x. By mistake she was served by a neighbor's bull of another breed in 1963 and produced a calf in June. Rebred to Dandy of Westdrums x.
